August 5	Antitrust: Taking on Monopoly Power from the Gilded Age to the Digital Age by Amy Klobuchar Antitrust enforcement is one of the most pressing issues facing America today—and Amy Klobuchar, the senior senator from Minnesota, is leading the charge. This fascinating history of the antitrust movement shows us what led to the present moment and offers achievable solutions to prevent monopolies, promote business competition, and encourage innovation. Klobuchar argues for swift, sweeping reform in economic, legislative, social welfare, and human rights policies, and describes plans, ideas, and legislative proposals to strengthen antitrust laws and antitrust enforcement.
September 2	Zero Fail: The Rise and Fall of the Secret Service by Carol Leonnig Carol Leonnig has been reporting on the Secret Service for The Washington Post for most of the last decade, bringing to light the secrets, scandals, and shortcomings that plague the agency today—from a toxic work culture to dangerously outdated equipment to the deep resentment within the ranks at key agency leaders, who put protecting the agency's once-hallowed image before fixing its flaws.
October 7	After the Fall: Being American in the World We've Made by Ben Rhodes Why is democracy so threatened in America and around the world? And what can we do about it? A former White House aide to President Barack Obama travels the globe in a deeply personal, beautifully observed quest for answers. To understand what was happening in America, Rhodes decided to look outward. He traveled to dozens of countries, meeting with politicians, activists, and dissidents confronting the same nationalism and authoritarianism that was tearing America apart.
